cuff guide Glastonbury 02

stages ▼

The Pyramid Stage
One of the legendary features of Glastonbury. The first pyramid was built of scaffolding; the second, which famously burnt down, of telegraph poles; while the new pyramid is a stunning sight of shimmering steel. The main stage always has an eclectic line up, with artists in the past as diverse as Oasis and Tony Bennett, REM, Pulp, Chemical Brothers, Radiohead and Robbie Williams. Set in a natural amphitheatre it can accommodate an audience in excess of 90,000.

The Other Stage
Previously the Second Stage and the NME stage - has evolved from a solely chart/Indie stage to include more rock and dance music. Site of some memorable performances (who can forget Catatonia in the thunderstorm) the arena can house an audience of in excess of 40,000 – and is bigger than many other main stages at other festivals.

Dance Tent
Friday is a tag team match featuring a trio of the biggest names around. From rising stars to the progressive scene's biggest stars. Saturday – jungle, drum and bass and garage with the climax being Europe's top female garage outfit. Sunday is downbeat day with chilled beats – the cream of down-tempo talent.

Jazz World Stage
From Latin traditional and contemporary to jumping dance stormers; African beat to chart storming drum and bass superstars; soul to funk and even the return of a band whose set in 1999 is the stuff of legends.

New Bands Stage
Will be playing host to some exciting acts this year – some new names to look out for in the future and some you may already know very well. David Gray, Gomez, Coldplay, Death in Vegas, Badly Drawn Boy, and The Doves have all played on this stage in the past. Check it out!

Glade
With a surround - sound system and open air stage lights, lasers and video projections, all beneath a canopy of trees. The Glade stage aims to provide the ultimate festival environment. Top live acts and DJ's will be performing back to back throughout the day and late at night things will switch over to The Glade café which will be broadcasting live to Radio Avalon in sequence to the visual arena.

Circus Field
Workshops galore – circus skills, juggling, trapeze (learn to fly!). New games, monster balls, circle shows, exploding cars, astonishing escapology and plenty of airy artistry!

Circus Big Top
From 10.30 am each morning non stop exciting performances - aerialists, acrobatics, a tribute to Vaudeville from the founder of Circus Oz, sword swallowing and magic: amazing circus acts to thrill you!

Cabaret
Will be open from 11.00 am with the best of stand up comedy interspersed with all sorts of fascinating variety acts - drop in and have a laugh.

Glebeland Theatre Field
Dragons, wizards, monsters, illuminated giant cones.

Outside Theatre Stage
Comedy, a wild and tattooed unicyclist, quick fire juggling, close up magic, levitation, a truly remarkable and dangerous show from Oz and much, much more – be there!

Dance, Variety and Fire Stage
A carnival atmosphere, African rhythms, dance groups, workshops and competitions. Drama, comedy and amazement; extraordinary prehistoric animals and music that will just make you want to get up and dance. Then at dusk, trapeze artists, fire parade and Fire and Light Show will be spectacular. This should not be missed especially on Saturday night.

Performers Corner
All kinds of weird and wonderful performances and you can try your hand at clay modelling. Large scale games, music and late night film shows between midnight and 4.00 am. A giant chess set, popular painting screen and a huge 3D 'love' structure, the smallest nightclub in the world, situated below the Cabaret Marquee.

Field of Avalon
A concentration of smaller and varied acts centering on the eclectic and the connected, celebrating the common roots of music, art and dance. As well as the main stage with live acts throughout the day there is the 24-hour café. Avalon stage, a place to sit and enjoy a wholesome vegetarian meal whilst watching a whole spectrum of top acoustic, jazz and folk acts. The Gaiaspace and Manna café organized by Salon Oriental creates a total environment of very global and very funky music visuals and dancers.

Cinema (10pm-4am)
This year should see the introduction of a 17 metre inflatable screen, a mix of 12 of the best films from the last year presented in Dolby Digital 6 track sound. If you missed it first time round now is your chance to see it or to catch it first here. Grab your blanket and come and chill out in front of the big screen.

Bandstand
Music at the heart of the festival.

Greenpeace Field
See Greenpeace in Action - climb the rig with the pros, get some airtime on the skateboard ramp, clean up your act in the solar-assisted showers then dry out on the 'beach'. Hungry ? eat organic in the 24hr cafe lounge and visit 'Soulmates' where friends can be re-united. Meet the guys who made 1 Giant Leap to see and hear the movie, the music, the magic.

Green Futures Field
The field contains it all, from permaculture to party. Sunbathe at the beach or deliberate in the debating forum. There are even some great bands to watch. Within the low impact zone there is everything you need to know about lifestyles that don't leave a footprint in the environment.

The Green Craft Field
Utilising the Earth's resources to build a new future, the Green Crafts Field highlights both traditional skills and modern innovations. This field brings together some of the finest craftsfolk in the country who still use traditional skills alongside modern technology - for a different Glastonbury experience try one of the workshops or relax among the willow sculptures.

Green Road Show
Presents the largest collection of alternative energy exhibits ever seen at Glastonbury Festival. It's Croissant Neuf's 10th Anniversary and this year they boast the World's largest solar power station. Lots of fun bands are lined up - come and enjoy!

Healing Field
Organised in the form of a mandala of four elemental circles: Fire, Air, Earth and Water, the Healing Field offers a wide variety of natural elements and therapies, including, massage, shiatsu, reflexology and much more.

Tipi Field
Peace and tranquillity reign, it is beautiful here - go and relax - it truly is the quietest place on site. Ssshhh!

Leftfield
Makes its debut this year as a fair trade coffee bar come lounge bar. This is the place for lengthly afternoon debates, evening sessions of music and late night movies.

enjoymusic being Safe on Site

1. Get to know the site – Find out where the stages are in relation to your campsite and where the markets are. Which stalls are important landmarks on your usual journey? Where is the closest campsite stewards' base?
2. Check out the name of the campsite that you are staying in – it will be sign-posted. Carry a torch at night - it can be difficult to identify your tent in a dark field with hundreds of other tents!
3. If you are camping with friends arrange your tents in a circle with entrances facing into the middle - and get to know your other neighbours!
4. If you are walking in the lanes around the site at night please wear bright or reflective clothing, and walk facing on-coming traffic.
5. Use the 24hr Property Lock-ups – THEY ARE FREE. Lock your stuff up in the morning, pick it up in the evening, and during the day leave your tent flaps open so it can be seen to be empty.
6. Go with friends to the cash point and bank
7. ~~Only take out as much cash from the bank as you require that day.~~
8. Don't count your cash in public places - and don't keep your cash and valuables together – spread them around your person.
9. Divide your cash at night and keep it in separate places.
10. Keep your chequebook separate from your guarantee card.
11. If anything gets stolen, report it. The Police Compound is near the farmhouse where they can give you a crime number for insurance purposes.
